

Lupus Laetus

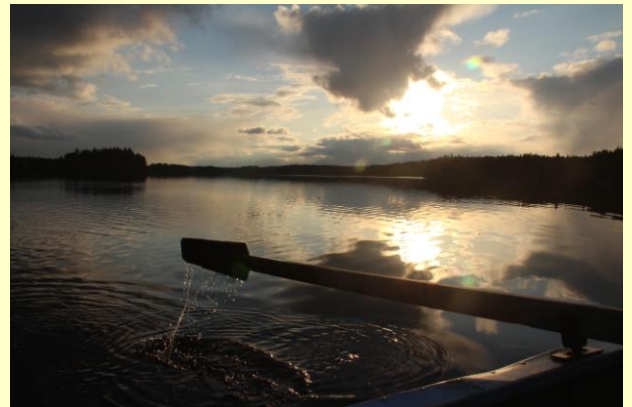

Written by por Céline GIBERT and Anthony PHILIPPE www.around-the-rock.com

Lupus Laetus

Scientist supervisor : Laetitia BECKER

Mail : lupuslaetus@free.fr

Adress : Voknavolok village, Republik of Karelie, RUSSIA

Lupus Laetus association proposes two places according to the duration of the stay :

- Less than two weeks, in Tver area, which is located 400km north-west of Moscow,
- For long stay, in Karelia, near the finnish border.

The fee is 500€ per month, and includes food and accomodation.

Activities to do :

Many activities can be realised according to the period of the year and according to the current projects :

- Analyze of the animal behaviour (on the field or with photo-traps),
- following the animals (with GPS and indication of presence),
- analyse of the feeding behaviour,
- construction tracks traps...
- various work of construction to improve the camp,
- ...

Any further information might be provided by Laetitia Becker if you ask for it.

View from the camp

We spent two months in the north of Russia in Lupus Laetus association. We have been welcomed by Yuri and the other volunteers and then we discovered a real paradise. The beauty and the immensity of the landscapes, the observation of the bears, hiking in the Taïga, made our stay wonderful.

Anticipation and organisation are not common words here. So, for those who want to come, you have to be flexible and take some initiatives. In addition, the schedule can change quickly depending on what may happen with the animals being rehabilitated.

You will have plenty of free time, so enjoy at most your time in the Karelian taiga.